

Who Grows Your Food?

Sunburst Trout • Haywood County, NC

In 1948, Dick Jennings returned from WWII to his grandfather's land in the mountains to create the first commercial trout farm in the Southeast. Today, his daughter Sally Eason leads the company and Sunburst Trout is nationally renowned for environmental responsibility and extraordinary quality.

Sunburst Trout are raised in well-oxygenated water that flows directly from the Shining Rock Wilderness. The fish are processed with care to create a full line of trout products, from fresh fillets to award winning caviar.
